

The eMaritime Group proves to be the cheapest ENC Provider with Price Match Guarantee.

ecdisENC.com, Part of The eMaritime Group, which provides services to over 250 shipping companies globally, now claims to be the cheapest ENC chart distributor in the world, now ensuring this with their new Price Match Guarantee Policy.

The eMaritime Group, recently known for Price Matching all of its STCW courses have now extended the policy to cover its ENC Distribution services, allowing not only a price matched quote - but also an additional 10% off the cheapest global price as a way of thanking you for choosing them. They even take care of the seamless transition from your current chart provider at no extra cost or service fees making the processes stress free.

Their site features a 60 second quote tool, which also allows you to download the free world chart catalogue, and view its gaps. You can then simply add rough waypoints for a passage, or select an area, and then finally choose a license period between 3 and 12 months.

There is a short video on the website which explains the simple process. It is worth generating a no-obligation quote even if it just to compare with your current provider.
